

Información del Departamento de Educación de Nueva Gales del Sur para preparar la entrevista

The interview process for the approval to teach has the following steps:

- Cognitive Assessment
The cognitive assessments will require you to answer questions to assess your literacy, numeracy and problem-solving capabilities.
- Emotional Intelligence Assessment
The emotional intelligence assessment will require you to answer questions related to resilience, conscientiousness and proactivity to help identify how you engage, relate and communicate with others
- Online Interview
The questions have been designed to give teachers an opportunity to respond to key themes for teaching in NSW public schools including their:
  - knowledge (including pedagogy and syllabus content)
  - critical experiences (demonstration of actions that have contributed to student progress and wellbeing, professional practices and support for the school community)
  - skills and capabilities (capacity to deliver curriculum and manage critical teaching activities such as classroom management and assessment).

There is also a YouTube video with getting prepared for the interview -
